ALBANY, April 24. - It seems now that the High License bill and the Saxton Electoral Beform bill will be passed in a few days, and go to the Governor, who will veto them. It seems also, but the probability is not so great that the Mayor's Rapid Transit bill in amended shape will soon so to the Governor. The most probable thing of all is that the Republicans will first send to the Governor a series of bills wiping out the present Police Commission, and probably some other commissions, and establishing in their stead double-headed commissions. one Commissioner to be a Democrat and the other a Republican. With these non-partisan Commission bills there may be other bills to give the Republicans patronage in New York city. These bills can be rassed and sent to the Governor before the Rapid Transit bill, and if he does not sign the Rapid Transit bill it will be amended so that its author would not know it. Mr. Platt devised this plan, and the Republican Senators and Assemblymen, from Senator Fassett and Speaker Cole down, have received their instructions. The next few days will show how the instructions will be carried out.

The two-headed non-partisan Police Commission bill is now on third reading in the Senate, and the Republicans have enough votes to pass it at any time in its regular order. The Assembly Committee on Cities reported the non-partisan Police bill to-day, and also a bill non-partisan rolled of the day, and also a bill affecting the Court of Special Sessions and the Tolice Justices. The Republicans think that they ought to have more Police Justices, more Commissioners, and more officials of all kinds in New York, and if they can get them by act of the Legislature they will. They believe that in the Rapid Transit bill they have seeds with which they can knock the purs of beieve that in the Rapid Transit bill they have a dub with which they can knock the nuts of parronage off the New York tree and catch them as they drop. There is little use of the Democrats upposing those bills in either House. The Republicans have enough votes to pass them. If they are to be defented it must be by a vote of the Governor, and the Republicans can then amend the Rapid Transit bill in order toget even. can then directed the toget even.

An agreement was made in the Senate today by which the Democrats consented to the reading of the High License and Saxton Electoral leform bills to-morrow, on condition that the Rapid Transit bill be read on Friday. A vote can be taken on the amendments to the Rapid Transit bill and the bill passed within an hour if the Republicans Senators permit it.
The Canai Improvement bill will also come up on Friday. It was considered in the Committee of the Whole to-day with the amount fixed at $500,000. Senator Langbein moved to increase the amount to $750,000. The amendment was carried by a vote of 14 to 13. After Senator Raines had announced that the amendment was carried the rural Republicans found two more votes, and Senator Raines, amendment over again, and it was defeated—

The Senate put the two Corporation Counsels, Mr. Beekman of New York and Mr. Jenks of Brocklyn, off the floor to-day. They want to be left free for the rest of the session to do as they please. They would be glad to put the reporters off, and almost all the Senators would favor it if they could get some other Senator to make the motion.

Oliver Mowatt, Esq., Premier of the Province of Ontario, Canada, visited the Capitol with his wife to-day. He had letters of introduction to Senator Pierce, who took him on the floor of the Senate Pierce, who took him on the floor of the Senate Pierce, who took him on the floor and he was particularly opposed to permitting any subject of the British crown any privileges. Lest Senator Murphy should get all the credit for this discourteous objection, Senator Erwin sain that if Queen Victoria or the Governor-General of Canada should visit the Senator they should be kept off. In the Assembly the privileges of the floor were given to Mr. Mowatt without objection.

Gen. Husted offered a concurrent resolution asking the Governor to give Col. Emmons Clark of the Seventh Regiment the rank of Brevet Erigadier-General. Mr. Crosby, who was a militial soldier for seven years before he fought on the floor of the Assembly, said that it was right to confer lots of honor on Col. Clark. The resolution passed both Houses. If the Governor coincides, Col. Clark can put on a more beautiful uniform than he at present wears when he rides on his horse in the centennial parade.

wears when he rides on his horse in the centennial parade.

Mr. Gibbs had Inspector Byrnes's Restriction of Freedom bill ordered to a third rending in the Assembly by a deceptive device. Mr. Hamflon has steadily objected to the progress of the bill. Mr. Gibbs asked Mr. McMaster of Steaben county to make the motion to progress the bill, and he talked to Mr. Hamilton and distracted his attention while Mr. McMaster made the motion. It met with no objection, as it was expected that Mr. Gibbs would make the motion and the objectors were not on the lookout for a motion from Mr. McMaster.

The Committee on Railroads reported the Demarcst bill, allowing the Brooklyn streeters roads to use cables or electricity for motive power.

car roads to use cables or electricity for motive power.

Senator Cantor asked the Republican Senators to decide whether they are going to adjourn on that fact has already been passed, but a motion to reconsider the resolution to adjourn on that date has already been passed, but a motion to reconsider the resolution has passed the Assembly, and is now pending in the Senate. The Legislature expects to adjourn over the centennial celebration. The Republicans are keeping the motion to reconsider at hand, so that they can handle their non-partisan Commission bills and the Rapid Transit bill with more case.

The Assembly this evening passed the Hammon Children Commitment bill and the John Episson Menoment bill.

Mr. Whitpile wants to have the payment of rent to the Indians on their land commuted. Mr. Vancarder asked whether the Seneca Indians did not want to become effizeus and send an Indian to the Assembly in place of Mr. Whitpile. Mr. John gravely replied after looking around over the men who compose the Committee on Judiciary. "No, we do not want to send a Seneca here. Let Mr. Whitpile come." The Assembly considered the various prison bills to-day. The Fassett bill was substituted for the Yares hill and ordered to a third reading. The Fassett bill classifies the prisoners and sends them to Sing Sing and Auburn prisons. According to whether they are hardened criminals or first offenders. It provides for the State account systems of employmentiand spinopriates 440,000 to carry them out. Mr. Peck moved an amendment that the prisoners should be employed only six hours a day, so that their products would not come to such a large extent in competition with the products of free labor.

Mr. Acker said: "If anybody should have resit is not the convicts but the people outside. The convicts should work tweive hours a day. They should work every minute of their lime. If there is to be a reduction of working hours it should be with the people outside the prison bar."

Judga lates tried to have amendments inserted so that the prisoners should work on highways and on public works. Mr. Hamilton tried to have an amendment to prevent the use of labor-saving machinery in the prisons. Both amendments were defeated. An amendment inserted so that the prisoners was adonted. Gen. James William Husted wanted to adorn and moved the previous question. Then lugs I lates found out that the bill provided an appropriation of $1,000.000 to carry it into effect. Clinton avenue were ready for occupancy, a tall, handsome woman made application for the lease of the centre store. She gave her name as Alice Jackson, and said that she desired to open a business in which ladies' and children's underwear would be a specialty. She had no difficulty in securing a lease, and two weeks later the handsome big window was filled with a tastefully arranged display of fine underwear. The store has not been very liberally patronized, but most of the stock was obtained on credit from local merchants, who were inclined to allow time in which to get the business fairly under way. To give still further ness fairly under way. To give still further cause for confidence, the woman rented apartments on Rese street, and hired a number of young women to make up fancy underwear, she meanwhile adding to her stock as she found other merchants ready to accommodate her with goods on credit.

The interior of the store was not visible from the street owing to a presty curtain with brass rings which was strung on a brass wire stretched across the window midway from ton bottom. A lace curtain also hung within the door. These curtains shut out a view of the interior yesterday morning when City the Interior yesterday morning when Court Marshal John J. Franklin tacked

Later other writs and complaints to the number of five were tacked on the door and windows, representing so many liens on the goods within.

Late yesteriny afternoon, when Marshal Franklin, armed with an attachment, effected an entrance, he found everything in disorder, The floor was littered with empty boxes, and the large stock of goods with the exception of about $100 worth, mostly belonging to John G. It was then said that between sunset Monday and sunrise Tuesday the fair Alice had packed all the goods she could into trunks and had skipped out of town with them early yesterday morning, leaving debts to the amount of over $1,000. It is not known where she came from, where she has gone, or that Alice Jackson is her right name.

INFORMATION FROM EVERY QUARTER. The Reduction of Sunday Traffic on the Vanderbilt Lines-Yardmen Chiefly Af-fected-Little Difference in Wages. soon after the handsome McElroy buildings on

As soon as the Presidents of the Vanderbilt lines east of Chicago agreed to discontinue as far as possible Sunday freight service, As sistant General Superintendent Theodore Voorhees of the New York Central sent this letter to managers of all connecting lines: For the purpose of stopping as far as possible freight train service and work in freight yards on Sundays, this company has decided to discontinue the interchange of freight with its various connecting lines on that day

You will please take notice, therefore, that, commencing on Sunday April 28 and on each Sunday there after, this company will not offer to your line at any junction station any freight for interchange for the twenty four hours from 0 o'clock Sanday morning untitwenty-tolk honday morning nor will we be prepared to feceive any freight from you during the same line, the only exceptions being in the case of live stock and perishable freight, which we will receive and deliver a hereinfore. A similar notice has been this day sent to each road hereafter.

with which this company intercharges freight business Since this letter was written, on April 13, Mr. Voorhees has received letters of approval from General Manager Pagh of the Pennsylvania, General Superintendent Murphy of the Eric, and others, including officers of several New England roads. They agree that too much business is done on Sunday, and say that they are doing what they can to diminish it.
"The practical result of the change," said
Mr. Voorhees, "will be to make Monday and Tuesday busy days, where they have been comparatively light heretofore. We shall step comparatively light heretofore. We shall stop sending out freight from all the different terminal yards on Saturday at midnight, and resume regular business at 0 P. M. on Sanday. The ordinary day yard force will work all Saturday night, and the light relief force will come on at 6 P. M. Sanday. But the day force will be reduced 50 per cent, on Sanday. The only trains that will be started after midnight Saturday will be trains carrying livestock and perishable goods. The effect will be to give one-half of the day force one Sanday and the other half the next; so they will each get the equivalent of two holidays a month. The other crews will work upon a somewhat similar bian. It will make no difference to the crews on the road—there are just so many trains to go out. Only the ward men will be affected, and I think they are generally in flower of a rest. It will make little or no difference in their carriags. They will only have to work harder two days of the week. I think that most of the roads will come around and suspend freight traffic for part of Sunday, at least.

Very lew of the yardmen of the Central expressed any objection to the change, which will go into effect next Sunday. Days off are so rare to them that they will be glad of the neverty for awhile at least. A few thought, it would be all right if the wages were raised a little, for the work would be harder when they were obly, and they would get nothing for the time they were off.

President Hood of the Western Maryland Raliroad vesterday announced that the extension of the read to Gettysburg from Bite Pidge Summit will be opened for travel on May 20.

The greater part of this line runs over a route laid out by the late Thaddeus Stevens of Fennsylvania, and was the lirst railroad grading done in the United States, although on account of its many curves it was subsequently abondoned. Fifty years later, when the project was revived and the route examined, the grading and culverts were found to be in a good condition as when first censtructed. It is said to be for its length, the most perfectly built roud in the country.
